

River Stories

Ada Ferry

The ferry left before sunrise. Mist hung over the water and the town bells were still.

Chapter Two

By noon the current had widened. We ate bread and olives on the deck.